RELIGIOUS AND CULTURAL OBSERVANCES

Out of respect for the religious dimension of the lives of many of our Shady Side families, we note here some of the major religious dates observed in our community. The observances listed are just a few of the primary holy days in each tradition that fall within our academic calendar. Some Shady Side families observe many more than these few events in their tradition, while others follow altogether different traditions or adhere to no religion at all. Please see our handbooks for information regarding absences and accommodations for religious observances. To learn more about these traditions and others and to access a more comprehensive list of observances within each, we encourage you to explore the pluralistic religious calendars at www.interfaithcalendar.org.
